The trip to the South Pacific island by the commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet followed a conference with Vice Admiral Robert L. Ghormley, naval commander in the South Pacific, and Lieutenant General H. H. Arnold, Jr., commander of the U. S. Army in the Pacific.

Admiral Nimitz's visit to Guadalcanal was the first by a fleet commander since the island was captured from the Japanese in August 1942.

HEALTH IN BOMBED ENGLISH CITIES GOOD

Liverpool Medical Officer Says No Epidemics Develop.

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE, Wide World Science Editor.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Liverpool's chief medical officer, Dr. William M. Fraser, is now on a health mission and he brings a story about the improvement of human health to bombing that would have been unimpaired before the war.

Liverpool took terrible bombings. But there weren't even any outbreaks of common colds, flu, or pneumonia. No epidemics of any sort directly traceable to bombings.

And not even neuroses. In the bombings and all the war strains to date, there has been no increase in mental troubles. The commonest neuroses are anxiety and hysteria, but Dr. Fraser said there are no more of these than in peace.

He traced the complete maintenance of sanity to three causes. One, people are working harder and have no time for the introspection which may bring on nervous troubles. Two, the English shelter program was well under way when the bombings began, and while the people were exposed to danger, they felt that something was being done for them; three, rationally the English are not much subject to neuroses. However, it is a significant fact that Liverpool's large foreign

Pressure Continues

Right now, he said, "rentals are occurring so rapidly and space is so insistently demanded that you do not have much time to do anything with it."

In the District of Columbia, Reynolds said, space in federal buildings on Dec. 31, 1940, totaled 16,100,000 square feet. Last June 30 the total had increased to 22,160,000. Space leased in private buildings here jumped from 1,870,000 square feet in December, 1940, to 6,350,000 in June of this year.

Some related data came from the U. S. civil service commission the other day: Civilian employment in the executive branch of government alone reached 275,362 persons in August—a net increase of 1,261 over July, although approximately 1,200 employees were decentralized to other cities.

The pay roll for the Washington area was $48,124,086 in August.

Here's How I Licked Wartime Constipation!

It was easy after I was told it's often due to lack of "bulk."

"Seems like I was always 'doing' up on account of constipation. That sort of stuff gets a fellow down. Then a friend pointed out that these war days were upsetting our whole way of living. Particularly in my meals were properly balanced—and make sure I got plenty of 'bulk.' Because lack of 'bulk' is one of the common causes of wartime constipation. Those medicinal laxatives gave me only temporary relief; they didn't get at the cause. But, Kellogg's All-Bran really fixed me up. It corrects this kind of constipation by supplying 'bulk.' And it tastes swell, too. Just eat it regularly and drink plenty of water. All-Bran is made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek."

Yes, Hitler — Hirohito and Benito, too — Uncle Sam is cooking with gas on two fronts these days. Sure, gas is still the favorite kitchen fuel of Mrs. America — and playing a big part in our national nutrition program. But gas has taken on a new significance on the industrial front, too. Long before Pearl Harbor — long before

Munich — gas was doing a job for American industry. Since the war, the importance of gas as an industrial heating agent has increased many fold. Today, almost every piece of war equipment you can think of depends on gas in its manufacturing process. So, you Axis war mongers, this is the double duty job gas is doing to help "cook your goose"!

FREAK MISHAP SPILLS 70 BUSHELS OF CORN

Truck Sideswipes Roller in Accident Near Marion.

If Route 4 south of Marion, sprouts a corn crop next spring, don't be surprised.
Approximately 70 bushels of shelled corn were spilled over the highway about 2:15 p. m. yesterday when a truck driven by Zerah LeRoy Cramer, 40, of near Richmond, sideswiped a 10-ton road roller, operated by Wesley Edgar Roosa, 31, of Columbus. Neither man was hurt, the state patrol reported.
The patrol reported that both the truck and roller were damaged, but not extensively. A wooden sideboard was torn off the truck, spilling the corn over the highway, and a gear box was ripped loose from the roller.
The accident occurred about nine miles south of Marion at a spot where the highway department is laying a black top road.
The truck is owned by Bernard C. Gray of near Richmond, and the road roller is the property of the Robinson, Burns & Cooper Co. of Findlay, contractor for the resurfacing job.

Ohio Union Leader Facing Deportation

CLEVELAND, Oct. 13—David Baint, 33-year-old CIO leader, faces possible deportation if convicted on a new charge of making false statements in his registration as an Hungarian-born alien, government attorneys said today.
A criminal information filed yesterday by District Attorney Don C. Miller said Baint was a member of the Communist party of America for five years but failed to say so during the nationwide alien registration.
Baint previously had pleaded innocent to another government charge he had falsely sworn, in applying for U. S. citizenship, that he had never been arrested.
Baint, as president of a CIO steelworkers' union local at the Ferro Machine & Foundry Co., led an unauthorized strike there more than a week ago.

C. W. Smoot, representing the firm of Campbell-Rose & Co., certified public accountants, presented an audit of the association's records on behalf of the treasurer, Ray King. The report, covering the period from Oct. 1, 1941, to Sept. 30, 1942, placed money on hand as of the latter date at $15,936.96, a decrease of $2,301.92 from a year ago.
Receipts of the association totaled $5,304.47, in comparison with disbursements of $6,193.03. Mr. Smoot reported. Receipts at the Harding Home and Museum totaled $826.81 and disbursements amounted to $2,240.27. The combined receipts totaled $6,131.38 and total disbursements were $8,433.30, a deficit of $2,301.92.

Total of Investments
The report also listed investments amounting to $978,008.13. This figure included $185,900 in United States bonds, $778,300.46 for the real estate value of the Harding Memorial and $13,517.77 for the real estate value of the Harding Home and Museum.

A report of J. Fred Dombaugh, manager of the Harding Home and Museum showed that a total of 1,428 persons paid $349.25 for admittance to the home during the year. A total of 1,708 persons paid $424.70 during the previous 12-month period.

Of the 1,428 persons visiting the home this year, 216 called after visiting hours, Mr. Dombaugh said. Mr. and Mrs. Dombaugh, who are in charge of the museum for the memorial association, have made it a point in the past year to admit visitors, especially soldiers, war plant workers and tourists, after the regular visiting hours.

Mr. Dombaugh told the association that the number of organizations visiting in a group increased this year over the previous year. Special rates have been arranged in cooperation with large parties, Mr. Dombaugh said.

Many Pilgrimage Visitors

One of the busiest days in Mr. and Mrs. Dombaugh's 13 years as directors of the home was Nov. 2 last year, when several hundred Boy Scouts were in Marion for the annual pilgrimage to the Harding tomb. Scouts from all over the state visited the home at this time.

During the meeting it was incidentally brought out that Nov. 1 has been set as the day for the annual Boy Scout pilgrimage to the memorial. Last year's program occurred on the anniversary of President Harding's birthday.

Mr. Dombaugh requested the association's permission to remove four trees from the grounds around the Harding home. He explained that the trees were diseased and in their present state threatened other sound trees around the home. The association approved the plan.

On a request to erect a sign at the Memorial directing visitors to the Harding home, the association instructed Mr. Dombaugh to act on his own judgment. Signs for both the home and the memorial were approved at the association's meeting a year ago and since then a new sign has been placed in front of the Home and Museum, Mr. Dombaugh said.

Acting on a motion made by French Crow, the association went on record commending Mr. and Mrs. Dombaugh for their fine work in operating the home.

Will Repair Walks

Mr. King, chairman of the grounds committee, reported that on a recent visit to both the Memorial and the Home and Museum both were found to be in splendid shape except for the walks leading to the tomb. In some places, he said, the walks have started to crumble and will have to be taken care of in the near future.

Plans to plant a large group of shrubs and trees on memorial property were announced by Mr. King. He said the new trees would be planted soon and will be used throughout the grounds whenever one of the present trees die or become diseased.

Mr. King asked the association to approve a vote of appreciation to Harold Augenstein, custodian of the Memorial grounds, and his assistant, Paul Mitten. The motion was approved by R. T. Lewis and seconded by J. W. Llewellyn and accepted by the association.

The association, like many other groups in Marion and throughout the nation, is making every possible effort to aid in the nationwide scrap collection drive. All possible scrap metal either at the Memorial or at the home will be tossed in to help scrap the Japs, Dr. Sawyer said.

Cork insulating jackets have been invented to be wrapped around the trunks of young trees to protect the trees from heat and animals.

WILLKIE TO ANSWER FLIPPANT REMARKS

Declares He'll Have Something To Say Soon.

By The Associated Press
EDMONTON, Alberta, Oct. 13—Wendell Willkie intimated in a prepared statement last night he would have something to say about "flippant statements" made by certain public officials concerning his second front utterances in Moscow after he arrives in the United States.

Willkie arrived at Fairbanks, Alaska, Sunday after flying across Mongolia and Siberia. He left China last Friday after touring the battlefield.

"I have collected much material and reached certain conclusions about our war effort, and about other countries and our relations with them," Willkie said in his statement.

"I shall be in the United States shortly, and I shall report by my fellow citizens further and in full, and to the President, if he wishes, on such subjects as he desires to discuss with me."

"Incidentally," Willkie's statement continued, "as to flippant statements made by certain public officials concerning the expression of my opinion in Russia in the question of a second front, I did not deem it appropriate or in good taste for me to reply to such personalities or flippancies while I was in other countries. I felt it my duty while abroad to uphold the hand of the President and all other United Nations officials, which I continued to do even after such remarks were made."

While in Moscow, Willkie made a statement urging speed in opening a second front and said that perhaps the military leaders needed prodding by the public. The statement evoked widespread comment in both Washington and London.

At his press conference in Washington Oct. 6, President Roosevelt told his listeners that everything was all right with the Willkie tour as far as he was concerned and that he was assuming that Willkie was carrying out extremely well just what he had asked him to do.

BRICKER ANSWERS Foe ON OHIO WAR RECORD

McSweeney's Attack on Program Called Unpatriotic.

By The Associated Press
Gov. Bricker asserted last night that criticism of Ohio's war record by Democratic leaders was "malicious and positively unpatriotic," and immediately John McSweeney, Bricker's Democratic opponent in the November election, replied that "patriotism is more than a pious expression, I stand on my record."

Bricker, a Republican seeking his third term, said a statewide radio address that McSweeney called civilian defense in Ohio "a joke."

"The half million of Ohio's fine people who have volunteered and are tirelessly giving their time do not think it is a joke," Bricker said.

"The 7,000,000 people of Ohio, who see their lives being protected by this program, do not think it is a joke."

Bricker said all state departments were "giving their first attention to the war" without sacrificing essential services, and commended especially the war work of the education, welfare and health departments.

OFFERS MANPOWER PROBLEM SOLUTION

Proposes Boards Pick Men To Work or Fight.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Oct. 13—As one means of tackling the manpower problem, Chairman Tolson (D-Calif.) of the house defense migration committee proposed today the establishment of special boards to determine "who shall go to war and who shall work at home."

He suggests a reorganization of the occupational deferment system, by transfer of the deferment responsibility from selective service to "technically qualified boards" under the war manpower commission.

"The serious condition in agriculture and comparable serious situations in some areas of heavy industrial war contract concentration," he said, "testify to the inability of local draft board to cope with problems of occupational deferments in a shortage labor market."

Tolson outlined his proposal as follows: "The army has just furnished 4,000 soldiers who are copper miners to the copper industry. This shows that we are beginning to repeat Britain's experience. She combed thousands of skilled workers out of her army after Dunkirk. This can only be avoided here by a schedule of essential occupations applied by occupational deferment boards under the war manpower commission."

"In agriculture, such boards should be drawn from technically qualified groups. They must arrive at their decisions as to the need for each individual by reference to our agricultural pro-

In industry and other essential services, the board should operate on an area basis, and all employers aware of deferments should be required to submit affidavits showing how each worker to be deferred fits into the plant's production program. These boards should be made up of persons equipped to judge technical occupational qualifications. They should be chosen for their intimate knowledge of the industries and essential services of the area."

Tolson said that "before we have a national service act, we should complete our inventory of manpower and find just where we stand x x x our rapidly expanding industrial army must be chosen much more wisely if we are to equip a 10,000,000 man army."

OHIO POLICEMAN SHOT IN BATTLE

Trio of Gunmen Open Fire at Steubenville.

By The Associated Press
STEUBENVILLE, Oct. 12.—A Steubenville policeman was wounded early today in a gunfight with a trio of robbers believed fleeing from a store of Pennsylvania holdings.

Police Radio Operator Robert Cowles identified the suspected offenders as William Eddy, 34, 1800 E. Main St., and a fellow felon, Raymond Bishop, 25, 1800 E. Main St., after the trio opened fire.

One of the three men tumbled out of the automobile as it sped away and was apprehended by Bishop.

Cowles said the gun fight occurred at Eddy and Bishop followed roads leading into Ohio after Pennsylvania police reported a trio believed to have perpetrated three holdups in western Pennsylvania at night was headed for the border.

He gave this account of the shooting:

The two officers spotted what they thought was the robber car as it approached a filling station. Their orders to the three men to get out of the auto were answered with gunfire. Eddy was shot and Bishop returned the fire. The holdups sped away toward East Liverpool, one of them either falling or jumping from the car as it raced away.

Cowles said Eddy was shot through the side but was not believed to be seriously hurt.

He said the shooting occurred at 2:30 a. m., two hours after Pennsylvania police reported two persons were wounded by a trio of gunmen who held up a beer garden on route 22 near Bavelton, Pa.

Cowles said this was the third holdup of the evening reported in western Pennsylvania. He said he had no other details on the Pennsylvania robberies.

COUNTY WAR BOND HONOR CONFERRED

E. L. Cleveland Gets "Man of Month Citation."

E. L. Cleveland, of 363 South Prospect street, assistant to D. J. Shelton, president of the Marion Steam Bond Co., has been named by the Marion county war bond committee as "Marion county man of the month" for September.

Mr. Cleveland was named for his part in the state war bond headquarters in Cleveland.

In honor of the recognition he will receive a special "minute man" citation provided by the Standard Oil Company of Ohio in the interest of the war savings program.

Mr. Cleveland is chairman of the Standard Oil labor-management committee which has encouraged war bond sales on the payroll deduction plan to the point that the company recently received recognition for employees' purchases in a volume equivalent to 10 per cent of the company payroll. The company now has a "bulldog" for its "minute man" flag. The citation came on Oct. 5, the day the company received its "war production pennant" from the maritime commission.

Mr. Cleveland, informed of his recognition this morning, said: "I just happen to be chairman. It was the work of the committee that brought the honor to the company."

He said all credit should go to the five men on the labor-management committee, R. E. Bailey, president of Local 1940, United Steelworkers of America, L. D. May Jr., O. V. Leckie, W. K. Hamner and G. B. Hoffelinger.

BRITAIN ASKS NAZIS TO UNSHACKLE MEN

Churchill Makes Proposal Through Switzerland.

By The Associated Press
LONDON, Oct. 13.—Prime Minister Churchill announced today that Germany had been requested to release her action in shackling British and Canadian prisoners and that if the Nazis agreed Britain immediately would cancel her reprisal measures.

Churchill said that the Germans violated the Geneva convention when they chained up 1,376 prisoners taken at Dieppe on Aug. 19 and that representations had been made to Berlin, through Switzerland, urging the Nazis to desist.

If the Germans will desist, he continued, "The counter-measures of similar nature which the (British) government felt themselves forced to take will immediately be withdrawn."

It was the prime minister's first report on the negotiations since Germany announced last Friday that the Britons and Canadians had been tied up for alleged binding of the hands of Nazis seized in British raids on Dieppe and Sark Island Britain retaliated by fettering a similar number of Nazi prisoners Saturday.

American youth is our strength and despite our wishful thinking of the details of our hearts, the virility of our effort must take precedence. We must face this truth: I should be derelict in my responsibility to this country and its heritage should I fail to voice it."

Stimson said the induction of the 18- and 19-year-olds would be less likely to disrupt essential wartime civil pursuits and domestic relationships than to build the army from the other end of the age categories.

Selective service headquarters said, meanwhile, that youths who have reached the age of 18 since last June 30 would not be subject to draft until another general registration is held, even if the minimum age for military service is lowered to include them.

Herbert, draft director, estimated that perhaps less than half the 2,500,000 18- and 19-year-olds registered in June would be available for drafting if the minimum draft age were lowered from 20 to 18 years because of heavy voluntary enlistments and physical defects.

Army Asks Young Men To Volunteer

Marion will be among the nine Ohio cities to be visited on a statewide recruiting tour launched today by the army in an effort to enlist 18 and 19 year old boys.

The Associated Press reported in a dispatch from Columbus that boys who sign up will be permitted to select any branch of the service they desire.

Branches open are: Air force, signal corps, field artillery, cavalry, infantry, armored force, quartermaster corps, ordnance, chemical warfare, medical department and corps of military police.

"Now young men of 18 and 19 have the greatest opportunity ever offered them to be of service," said Lieut. Col. E. W. Chester, chief of the army recruiting service.

The recruiting caravan consisted of a 25-piece band, four trucks and a jeep.

Two WAC Officers, Lieuts. Louise A. Kennedy and Marion C. Lichty, accompanied the army men to recruit young women in the women's auxiliary corps.

The recruiters will visit Steubenville, Youngstown, Canton, Massillon, Akron, Mansfield, Lima, Marion and Springfield.

Ohio's selective service system like that of the nation is prepared to go ahead without delay with the selection of 18 and 19-year-olds when congress passes such legislation. Col. Chester W. Goble, state director, said today.

Russian Secrecy on War Hampers Aid from Allies

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

LONDON, Oct. 13.—Both in the United States and in Britain, one constantly hears the plaint that the Anglo-American allies are hampered in their relations with the Russian government by its policy of secrecy regarding details of Soviet operations.

SEES NAZIS IN FEAR OF SECOND FRONT

British Cite Change in Tone of German Statements.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—The possibility now exists, upon the German side, of war on two or three fronts—whereas on the Allied side, the German side, the British source declared today.

The source based his belief on recent Nazi utterances picturing Germany as preparing for defensive warfare.

Until now, he said, the Nazis viewed the world as a chess board, the German side, the British source declared today.

Noting a German statement that the axis "can cope now with all military demands for any defensive or offensive necessities," he said such a boast must be based on these doubtful Nazi assumptions:

1. That Germany's present position is impregnable;

2. That the German army will not have to suffer so badly in Russia this winter as last;

3. That Hitler could spare troops from Russia for wherever else they might be needed;

4. That allied air attacks would not hamper the transport of troops and equipment to any danger spot;

5. That additional troops would be spared for rubbing salt into the wounds of the occupied countries;

6. That the axis satellite powers would be able to continue fighting.

The point here is that while the Soviet government can and does control the circulation of news in its own domains, Britain and America maintain no such control.

Four—We now come down to a point which is delicate. There is an element of distrust between the Soviet and the other two members of the triple alliance.

Now, it isn't strange that suspicion should exist. Ever since the Bolshevik revolution both America and Britain have fought vigorously to exclude an aggressive Communism.

This situation naturally has given rise to friction between Moscow and the other two capitals. However, relations have been much more cordial since the beginning of the Russo-German conflict.

It is logical to expect that still more of this mutual distrust will disappear when the English-speaking allies get into full battle action.

From the Anglo-American standpoint, one stumbling block to Communist "political propaganda in their countries."

It is believed in some quarters here that Moscow would be willing to give guarantees that Russian money would not be spread in America or Britain to spread Communism. Likely, the Moscow government also seeks assurances.

As I already have reported, all three allies are busy with this problem of distrust.

MARION CO. PUPILS ENROLLED FOR WORK

Help Form Labor Reservoir. But Not Needed Yet.

Marion and virtually all Ohio counties are in good shape to handle farm and factory labor problems involving high school pupils.

As a result of a survey made last spring by the Marion office of the U. S. Employment Service, which serves Marion, Wyandot and Hardin counties, there are more than 300 boys and girls registered for various kinds of work and 120 who signed up for the "land army" program to help the farmers. Manager Fred B. Scherf said this morning.

State Director of Education Kenneth C. Ray said today in Columbus the surveys throughout the state had created a reservoir of potential labor that could be called upon in event of severe shortages. The Associated Press reported.

U. S. Seizes Three War Plants; Two Men Held

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—The navy took possession today of the plant of Triangle Engineering, Inc., at Elkhart, Mo., and two subsidiaries at Millard, Mo., and the White House announced that the FBI had arrested a plant superintendent and an army and navy inspector on bribery charges.

A White House statement said the inspectors were charged with accepting bribes in the case of "service fees" and that the navy's "preliminary investigation indicates that more than $1,000,000 in management irregularities may be involved."

The navy took over the plant under terms of a presidential executive order which said it was "detrimental that they be operated 'effectively and safely.'"

Those arrested, the White House said, were Josef Ben Lackner, executive vice president of Triangle; J. A. McCambridge, until recently civilian army inspector at the Elkhart plant, and Reginald Gregory, chief civilian navy inspector at Triangle.

DRAFT AGE

that legislation may be necessary to solve the problem on the basis of selective service.

"It may be," he said, "that all of our volunteer effort, however well intentioned and well answered, will not suffice to solve the problem in that case we have to adopt new legislation. If this is necessary, I do not believe the American people will shrink from it."

"In a sense, every American, because of the privilege of his citizenship, is a part of the selective service."

"The nation owes a debt of gratitude to the selective service boards. The successful operation of the selective service system and the way it has been accepted by the great mass of our citizens gives us confidence that, if necessary, the same principle could be used to solve any man-power problem."

Politics Avoided

The President expressed his satisfaction with his secret trip about the country unaccompanied by batteries of reporters and photographers, saving time that would have been expended in meeting the demands of publicity.

"And I might add—it was a particular pleasure to make a tour of the country without having to give a single thought to politics," the President said.

That presidential cross-country trips have been permanently revolutionized for the duration of the war was made clear when he said:

"I expect to make other trips for similar purposes, and I shall make them in the same way."

This was completely a fireside chat, addressed to the people of the country above the heads of congressional critics and "type-writer strategists."

Its only specific legislative recommendation was the proposal to change the draft law, plus a mention of the possibility of putting man-power mobilization on the basis of selective service.

He laid down these two specific principles for "a sound man-power policy."

"First, to select and train men of the highest fighting efficiency needed for our armed forces in the achievement of victory over our enemies in combat."

"Second, to man our war industries and farms with the workers needed to produce the arms and munitions and food required by ourselves and our fighting Allies to win this war."

The President reiterated that the United Nations have decided to establish the identity of Nazi leaders responsible for "innumerable acts of savagery" and that evidence "is being relentlessly piled up for the future purposes of justice."

The President said that naturally on his trip he was most interested in watching the training of the fighting forces.

Young Men Needed
"All of our combat units that go overseas must consist of young, strong men who have had thorough training," he continued.

"A division that has an average age of 25 or 26 is a fighting unit that is not as good as an average age of 33 or 34. The more of such troops we have in the field, the sooner the war will be won and the smaller will be the cost in casualties."

The President went on that the combat units are well manned, well equipped and well trained and that their effectiveness in action will depend upon their leaders and the wisdom of strategic plans.

"I can say one thing about our plans: They are not being decided by the type-writer strategists who expound their views in the press or on the radio," he said.

"One of the greatest of American soldiers, Robert E. Lee, once remarked on the tragic fact that in the war of his day all the best generals were apparently working on newspapers instead of in the army. That seems to be true in all wars."

"The trouble with the type-writer strategists is that, while they may be full of bright ideas, they are not in possession of much information about the facts or problems of military operations."

"We, therefore, will continue to leave the plans for this war to the military leaders."

The war must be won, the President asserted, so that it stays won, and the objective therefore is to completely destroy the military power of the Axis powers so that it can not revive to resume aggression in the next generation.

QUINCY CREW CALM AS SHIP GOES DOWN

Men Folded Clothes Neatly. Then Jumped Overboard.

By The Associated Press
CLEVELAND, Oct. 13.—The tale of how the crew of the Quincey, under heavy fire, carefully folded his pants and shirts and left them in neat piles before abandoning the sinking ship was told by Adam B. Koblit, 23-year-old aviation robotman of suburban Shaker Heights.

Home on leave, Koblit described the apparently calm conduct of the men as they donned life jackets and leaped into the sea.

"It's a funny thing, the way you react at a time like that," said the strapping survivor in an interview shortly after the navy announced the sinking of the Quincey and two other heavy cruisers in the attack on the Solomon Islands.

At the time the alarm went off I was sleeping top-side. I went immediately to my battle station. As soon as I got there, the fun began.

"The ship started to list, and at that point the word was given to abandon ship."

Discussing what the Plain Dealer calls the "Hitler-Jap Helper" kind of Congressman, who voted against all of America's early preparedness plans and how unfair it would be to our soldiers to keep him in Congress in War time, a prominent World War Veteran recently said:

Massillon-Staubenville Clash Friday Features State High Grid Ca

Tigers' State Title at Stake; Protege of Paul Brown Leads Challengers.

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 12.—A clash of football will be played this week-end by Ohio's two top high school teams—the Massillon Tigers and the Staubenville Spartans—who have claimed the state title the last seven years.

The Staubenvilles, definitely on the upgrade after five lean campaigns, are coached by Howard Brinker, a former junior high mentor at Massillon under Paul Brown.

Each club has won four straight Massillon scoring 137 to 12 for the first, while Staubenville won 163 points and the opposition 25. More than 16,000 fans are expected to see the contest.

Staubenville will present as its star Johnny Stajack, who scored four touchdowns and passed for another in playing only the first half of last week's 59-6 win over Bellville. He did not play at all in the second game, but has 60 points to show for the three he has been in.

17 Straight Wins
Massillon is banking on Bob Graber, who two weeks ago romped 85 yards against Lincoln, Neb., for the longest run of the season, and repeated Friday for 97 yards as the Tigers beat Alliance 24 to 0.

That win over Alliance gave Massillon 17 straight contests without defeat. Other long strings extended were: Powhatan and Xenia O. S. & S. O. Home, 22 each; Tiltonsville 19, Cleveland Lakewood 18, Toledo Libbey and Cleveland Lincoln 13; Stow 12, and Fredericktown 11.

Carroll Lechman's 16-game streak broke under a 27-7 defeat at the hands of Canton Lincoln, while Wadsworth wrecked Barboursville's 11-game streak with a 7 to 6 upset.

Other teams with four straight wins this year include Newark and Marietta, who meet this week. East Liverpool, Amsterdam, Mansfield, Dayton, Oakwood, Versailles, Medina, Hudson, Greenown, Columbus North, Bexley, Defiance and Lorain. Lorain has unsuited goal lines, while Dayton Oakwood took the high-scoring with 102 while allowing four for only six.

Bob Lucas, Paulding's junior Negro fullback, is the No. 1 individual star with 102 points for four games. With eight he was shut out as the Panthers dropped the opener to Defiance 26 to 0. He scored 22 points in 29 minutes last week as Defiance Jefferson fell 60 to 0.

Jack B. Zell of Newark counted four times in the 42-6 win over Cambridge to earn a 77 touchdown. Harvey Leland of Amsterdam also got four in the 31-0 triumph over Jefferson Union, hitting twice place with 73, and Stajack of Staubenville rounded out the ten-touchdown group.

Nullify 100-yard Run
Other stellar point-gatherers with their totals are: Dave Barbours of Greenown, 71 in four games; Ohio Cline, Fredericktown, 66 in three; Regis Leonard, Tiltonsville, 62 in four; Bill Cantwell of Gallipolis and Johnny Sauer of Dayton Oakwood, 58 in four, and Jim Clark, Columbus North, 12 in four.

In addition to the 97-yarder by Massillon's Graber, long runs resulting in touchdowns included: Birkel of Newark, 60, 58 and 80; Jim Johnson of Medina, 87 and 79; Dick Roush, Staubenville, 80, and Ernie Parks, Canton McKinley, 73 yards. A 100-yard dash with an intercepted pass by Van Wert's Nick Wedge, was nullified by a clipping penalty, and four other Van Wert touchdowns also were cancelled for infractions as Bluffton was downed by 33 to 0.

Oddities picked up along the way included: all Miami Valley league games—Mansfield-Fairmont, Piqua-Greenville and Sidney-Troy—resulted in same-score victories at 7-0 for the first named. Toledo Woodward, fresh from its first city league victory in eight years (6-0 over Waller), dropped a 38-0 decision to Defiance; Carl Robertson, Newark end, scored 65 yards with a pass to the forward line when he guarded the ball, thinking he was over the goal (the score on the next play on another pass as Cambridge fell 53 to 0); seven of the top 10 scorers in the southeastern Ohio loop are members of the Gallitoolis club; Hamilton is happy over the return of Coach Dana King after 12 years' absence (The Big Blue has won three straight); Whittington won its first game after three defeats, 12-7 over Hillsboro, the losing being coached by Amos Smith who had coached Whittington 10 years ago, and the winners' assistant coach, George Houck, having started as a player on the Hillsboro squad (what a mixup); At Bridgeport, as Tiltonsville rang up its 19th straight by 20-0, they turned out the lights to halt a near riot staged by spectators; Akron lost its last undefeated team as Kenmore bowed to Toledo DeWitt 52-7; and "Joltin' Joe" Tillitt of Washington C. H. scored all three touchdowns as Greenfield McClain was beaten 20-13, second straight defeat for that team after having gone unbeaten for three campaigns.

Other 5-round results: Rollie Hain, Warren, welterweight, beat Rudy Roem, Buffalo; Tom Steinhilber, Buffalo, in the featherweight class; and in the same division, Johnny Harvey, Warren, won over Horace Lettich, Buffalo.

ALL BUT CHAMPION DENY CLAIM LOUIS WILL QUIT BOXING

Both Jacobs and Roxborough Claim Sgt. Joe Was Misinterpreted.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—About the only member of Joe Louis' official family who wasn't denying Joe's statement of his retirement today was Joe himself. That, of course, didn't include Mrs. Joe, whose only statement when informed Joe had said his "fighting days are over" was that "it's just as well."

In New York Promoter Mike Jacobs, who has put on every one of the Brown Bomber's fights since 1935, and in Detroit John Roxborough, one of the two managers who placed him into the world's heavyweight championship, both insisted that Joe, in telephone conversations with them had said he was "misinterpreted."

Yet, not a word came from Sergeant Joe at Fort Riley, Kan., to refute the statement he gave The Associated Press Sunday. He was all set to leave for a 15-day furlough in Los Angeles today to take care of some private business, but there was no claim from him that he was "misinterpreted."

As a matter of fact, it would be quite a job to misinterpret two of the simple questions and direct answers the Bomber and Kaufman exchanged.

Q—Why are you retiring when you're 28?
A—Cause I'll be too old when this war is over; I'm too old now.
Q—You're only 28, Joe; that's not old.
A—That's right; but by the time this war's over, I'll be in my 30's and that's too old for a fighter. My fighting days are over.

Meantime, the fight world was as divided over Joe's retirement as it was over his statement. Billy Conn, who was to have met Joe last night in a return bout until the war department turned thumbs down on the fight, declared "Joe is still the champ."

Joe Doubts If He'll Ever Defend Title
By The Associated Press
KANSAS CITY, Oct. 13.—The Joe Louis controversy—will he or won't he fight again?—has ended. Both sides are right.

Sergeant Joe, on his way from Fort Riley, Kan., to Los Angeles for a two weeks' furlough, diplomatically voted both yes and no while waiting for his early morning plane.

World's Greatest Runner Doesn't Like Athletics

Gunder Haegg, Famed Swedish Distance Star, Rarely Attends Track Meet in Which He Isn't Entered.

Wide World Features

STOCKHOLM — (By Cable)—Gunder Haegg, the world's most famous runner, isn't interested in sports.

The swift Swede says he doesn't care for athletics in general and never even goes to a track meet in which he isn't competing.

But for five years he worked to make himself the greatest distance runner, worked in lumber camps to strengthen his muscles and ran miles through snow to harden his legs.

That strenuous preparation fitted him for the series of record-shattering races he has run in the last 10 weeks, seven successive competitions in which he bettered world marks, performances that lifted him from comparative obscurity to fame.

Calling His Shot
His most recent and likely greatest feat was his 4,046 mile, nearly two seconds better than Sunday, Wooderson, recognized time. And in this one, the phantom called his shot. Scheduled to run three miles and the 5,000 meters in a meet here Sept. 4, Haegg announced a few hours before the meet that he would run the mile and would go all out after the record.

And that's what he did. Before an overflow crowd of 23,000, Haegg easily outdistanced five competitors and came closer than any other runner in history to the long-hoped-for 1-minute mile.

That climaxed the greatest job of record-smashing in track history, shattering two-mile, 1,500, 2,000 and 3,000 meters marks. Haegg now has his eyes on the three-mile and 5,000-meter.

Credits Parents
This 23-year-old, who was born on New Year's Day, 1918, credits his parents with teaching him to run.

"Mother used to urge me to run instead of chop wood," he recalled. His father encouraged him, too, and gave him plenty of free time in which to run.

Gunder started running when he was 15. His father arranged a 730-meter race for him and timed him with an alarm clock. To use him on, his father sometimes reported false times, making him believe he had run faster than he actually had.

Worked As Farm Hand
He is the son of a small freeholder in the province of Jamtland in northern Sweden. From 1930 to 1939 he worked as a farm hand. His employer, named Westman, was president of a local athletic club and stimulated Haegg's desire to run.

In his first serious competition in 1936, Haegg won a 1,500-meter run in 4:24 and a 5,000-meter event in 16:11. He spent 1939 in military service, was a fireman in 1940 and is now a postman. He was disqualified in 1941 for a rule infraction and prohibited to compete for 10 months.

Running In Snow
When the disqualification came Haegg says he intended to stop running, but he repented and started hard training again in the woods, running for an hour in the deep snow three times a week.

And in his first race after he became eligible in July he clipped a fifth of a second off Wooderson's mile mark and started his rash of record breaking.

Haegg thinks that one reason for his success is that he has never practiced gymnastics and has done his running only on soft forest paths.

Likes To Dance
He never touches alcohol but eats everything and never frets about diet. He eats much meat and little greens. His employer characterized him as somewhat sulky but a clever workman. He is a rather good ski runner. After every race Haegg visits a restaurant where he can dance, but no girl can boast that she is favored above others.

Haegg has hopes of going to the United States to compete this winter and says he trusts he can give the Yankees a good show.

OHIO STATE BUCKS FIRST IN COLLEGE FOOTBALL SURVEY

Service Teams Excluded from First Nationwide AP Poll.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Once mighty Minnesota has tumbled at last, but the Big Ten conference still produces the best college football teams in the land, in the opinion of 91 sports writers who voted in the first Associated Press poll of the season and picked Ohio State as the country's No. 1 team.

Coach Paul Brown's Buckeye winners of their first three starts by decisive margins, received 25 first-place votes and a total of 536 points, based on the usual pattern of ten points for each first-place vote, nine for each second and so on.

While Minnesota, the No. 1 team in the final rankings of 1941, slumped to 14th place this time, the Big Ten produced three other representatives among the first ten, in addition to Ohio State.

The Southeastern conference landed a trio of teams among the first ten, including Georgia, which was voted the No. 3 spot, while the East was represented by two clubs and the Far West by one.

Here are the first ten, with the first-place votes in parentheses and points figured on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

1. Ohio State (25) 636
2. Georgia (12) 494
3. Michigan (12) 418
4. Alabama (10) 356
5. Illinois (8) 326
6. Georgia Tech (5) 306
7. Wisconsin (5) 296
8. Pennsylvania (5) 286
9. Calgate (2) 170
10. Washington State (2) 160

If the Navy's Pre-Flight Squads had been eligible for the rankings, teams like Kent State, Northern Indiana, and Southern California would surely have been high on the list, but the poll was restricted to college eleven's and service clubs are studied with former men stars.

In addition to its 25 first-place votes, the Ohio State team which has turned back Fort Knox, Indiana and Southern California drew 20 second-place ballots.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—New York grid fans are working up a head of steam over the possibility of getting the Army-Navy game since Biff Jones told the football writers that it isn't at all certain to be played in Philadelphia as scheduled. . . . But Biff also pointed out that it's Navy's game and you know the Navy never has cared too much about playing here. . . . In two of the past three seasons Cleveland's minor league hockey club has done as well at the gate as the New York Rangers and hasn't had to pay big league salaries.

One-Minute Sports Page—Ed Bang, sports editor of the Cleveland News for 35 years, also will serve as the paper's military editor besides writing his sports column. . . . Donora, Pa., Stan Musial's home town, is throwing a party for its world series star tomorrow. . . . With hockey out for the duration, St. Louis may go in for big-time college basketball at the arena.

Today's Guest Star—Bill Diehl, Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch. "It may be a little late for such things, but you could say the Cards gave Brooklyn the 'bums rush' in the National league race."

Dot, All, Brothers—Red Rolfe, who could hardly be pried loose from Tennessee, N. H., during the off-season after years, didn't go back there at all after the world series. He headed right for New Haven to look for an apartment. . . . Whirlaway shouldn't be bothered by losing to Asab on a day like last Saturday. . . . Look what happened to Minnesota.

Pictured above is Nick Bilings, who will meet Larry Hasakowski of Toronto, Canada, in the semi-final match on Thursday's army wrestling card. These two were on opposite teams in last week's tag team scrap won by Nencoff and Axel Madsen Jack Hobbs, the youthful Hooper, will get another chance to prove himself on the local mat when he matches goods with Axel Madsen in the 30-minute preliminary event.

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Abdominal Cramp

The two commonest causes of acute abdominal cramps are appendicitis and gastro-enteritis. Appendicitis is inflammation of the vermiform appendix, which is a lymphoid structure much like the tonsils. Gastro-enteritis is a general inflammation of the surface membrane of the entire digestive tract, both stomach and bowel.

A gastro-enteritis attack is usually due to overeating or eating some food that irritated or "disagreed," or to mild bacterial infection from infected food.

Gastro-enteritis is, in the vast majority of cases, a mild, self-limited condition which after a day or two of discomfort passes entirely away. It has no serious complications.

Appendicitis, on the other hand, is one of the most serious not only of abdominal, but of all bodily conditions. It is frequently fatal, and aside from that, may develop any number of very serious complications.

Both conditions are particularly likely to occur in young adults—from 19 to 35. For that reason the health directors of colleges, of defense workers, of civilian bureau workers in Washington and elsewhere, and the medical corps of the armed forces are particularly alert to them. In making a diagnosis and in the handling of the case, the cooperation of the patient is needed, and therefore there is a need for the education of the public on the subject.

As pointed out by Drs. Quigley and Contratto, who direct the health of Harvard's students, if a diagnosis of appendicitis demanding operation is made on a student with gastro-enteritis, a great deal of valuable time, to say the least, is lost. But even more serious and hazardous is for the student or bureau worker to have appendicitis and say: "Oh, it's just an old-fashioned bellyache."

According to the experience of the Harvard medical directors, the differential diagnosis is made on a number of points which their experience has tabulated.

There is a sudden, or explosive onset in nearly all (70 per cent) cases of gastro-enteritis; but in less than half (41 per cent) of the cases of appendicitis. Diarrhea is present in 77 per cent of gastro-enteritis cases, very rare (7 per cent) in appendicitis.

Vomiting occurs in 71 per cent in gastro-enteritis, 38 per cent in appendicitis. The pain in the abdomen is colicky in gastro-enteritis (64 per cent), steady in appendicitis in 89 per cent of cases.

Tenderness on pressure over the abdomen occurs less than half the time (44 per cent) in gastro-enteritis; 100 per cent in appendicitis. There is never spasm of the muscles in gastro-enteritis, but in 28 per cent of appendicitis.

If there is pain in the abdomen on coughing, the indication is appendicitis, occurring in 37 per cent of cases. It never occurs in gastro-enteritis.

Pitfalls of Love

By ADRIE GARRISON

"YOU SEEM to want to broadcast things yourself," the gangster sneered, still whispering. "But remember, you promised something too."

"I'm not going back on it, is that all you want me to do?" "That will be enough. You know who, and he will tell you what to do."

"When I can see him, I'll tell him," Carolyn whispered. Then she raised her voice in a triumphant yell: "Annie Mudge!"

Dicky and Miss Whitlock rushed out with me. We unbound Carolyn quickly and took her back to the room we had just quit. The gangster's sneering voice followed her.

"Not even a good-bye kiss, Carolyn?" "May I tell him off, Dad?"

"Say anything you like," my father said, with utter loathing in his voice. Leaving the door ajar, Dicky went through it.

"As soon as he starts to answer me, close this door," he said. "No subjecting the little girl to any more."

We almost held our breaths as Dicky strode to where the gangster stood chained.

"For your information, rat," he began, his words like rattling hailstones, "you will waste your breath telling anything about the young lady who has just left you for you never will get a chance to tell anybody else anything. You are going from here to Federal detention court. You never will see the outside world again."

"The young lady knows you never can harm her again, so now you have no hold over her. Your only chance of cheating the chair is to come clean. Shut that door!"

The last words were a shout, and Miss Whitlock obeyed him promptly. Then Dicky dashed through the door, closing it after him.

"The guards will settle him," he said. "Better let him stay there by his luncheon until we all get upstairs, don't you think, Dad?"

"By all means," my father said. "Come, Margaret and Richard. Miss Whitlock, will you see to Carolyn?"

That he meant "Will you see that she does not get away?" was clear. And a purplish flush stained Carolyn's face.

But she said nothing until my father had led us into a narrow row corridor from which opened a series of other doors. My father took us to a comfortable sitting room, and when we were seated he pressed a button below a speaking tube in the wall.

"Gee?" he said, then went on. "Get your men, unchain the fellow and lock him up again. But look out for him! What's that?"

Oh, yes, he can talk to him first. I'll see him outside immediately. I wondered if it was my imagination, or did my father's eyes seem to me as he went to the door? But I was curious enough to bend forward and look.

But that one glance was enough to give me a staggering surprise. For the man outside who had summoned my father, and who, inadvertently I was sure, had not stood far enough aside to escape being seen, was my brother-cousin, Jack Bickett!

The Stars Say—

For Wednesday, Oct. 14

A PROSPEROUS and happy day is forecast from the prevailing astral influences. It should be a fortunate time for social, domestic and affectional affairs, if steps in this direction are moderately and conservatively taken. Business and other enterprises should thrive under an aggressive speeding up. All pertaining to art, literature and all cultural attainments should thrive.

These words birthday it is may look forward to a pleasant and prosperous year, with all things progressing toward security and well established lines. New projects and enterprises should respond to this consolidation of interests but it would be wise not to be carried away by an unjustifiable outlay.

A child born on this day should be talented and versatile in many forms of art as well as business, such as advertising, selling agencies and promotion.

GUANO BIRDS LIKE FISH

By The United Press

LA JOLLA, Calif. — The Scripps Institute of Oceanography has established that guano birds of Peru consume 5 1/2 million tons of fish annually. No effort is made to put them on a Hollywood diet, as the resulting amounts of guano are more than compensative. The Peruvian people utilize only 4,000 metric tons of sea fish annually.
